Name _____

Would and Might

1 Read and match the questions to their answers.

- | | |
|---|---|
| 1. Would you ever go on a blind date? | a. No, I wouldn't. I'd get sick. |
| 2. Would you ever go skydiving? | b. Yes, I would. I love the thrill of heights. |
| 3. Would you ever eat raw fish? | c. I might. I am very creative. |
| 4. Would you ever consider writing your own book? | d. No, I would never do that! I'm too shy. |
| 5. Would you ever adopt a child? | e. I might. But I wouldn't like hunting for food. |
| 6. Would you ever live in the jungle alone for a month? | f. I might. If I was unable to have my own. |

2 Read and complete the dialogue with would, wouldn't or might.

How adventurous are you?

Paul: Welcome to this week's edition of How adventurous are you? Today I'll be interviewing Kyle, from 10th grade. Hi Kyle. Welcome.

Kyle: Hi Paul. Thanks.

Paul: As you know, we ask participants a series of five questions and then rank them as 'super adventurer', 'regular adventurer', or 'stick in the mud.' Are you ready to play?

Kyle: Sure thing!

Paul: (1.) _____ would _____ you ever go kite surfing?

Kyle: Yes, I (2.) _____. I love water sports.

Paul: What about skydiving? Would you ever go skydiving?

Kyle: No, I (3.) _____. I'm scared of heights.

Paul: Ok. What about your eating habits? Would you ever eat raw meat?

Kyle: Gross! No way! I (4.) _____ never eat raw meat!

Paul: How about bugs? Would you ever eat a bug?

Kyle: Yes, I (5.) _____ eat a bug. I've heard they taste like popcorn.

Paul: And the final question. Would you ever pet a wild tiger?

Kyle: Hmm. I guess I (6.) _____. I'm not sure.

Paul: Well you've answered 'yes' to only two out of five questions. That makes you a 'stick in the mud!' Thanks for playing, Kyle. See you next time.
