My grandpa's life in Italy

My grandpa was born in Italy but he didn't live there for a long time. He arrived in Argentina with his parents when he was five years old. They didn't speak any Spanish and life was difficult for them. After several years of hard work, his father opened a small bakery in Córdoba. When Grandpa was a teen, he went to school in the morning and helped his parents in the bakery in the afternoon. When he finished secondary school, he went to university because he wanted to become a doctor. He also played football with his friends at a local club and was actually very good at it. He even had the opportunity to play professionally but he decided to finish his career as a doctor. At university, he met my grandma and when they graduated, they got married and had three children. His life as an immigrant wasn't easy but he was very hard-working and is now a very successful and happy man.
